

Bernice Alma Hairston

November 17, 1931 - May 25, 2021

BERNICE ALMA HAIRSTON, the Matriarch of the Hairston Family, was born on November 17, 1931, in Baltimore, MD. She was the only daughter of four children to the late George R. Rodgers, Sr., and Helen Carter Rodgers. A lifelong resident of Baltimore City, Bernice was beyond proud of her ability to maintain her independence and be active in her family's life. She departed this life on May 25, 2021, to reunite with her late husband, Earl Eugene "Genie" Hairston, her sons, DeHaven A. Hairston and DeWitt E. Hairston, and her sisters in life and best friends, Connie Tillman, Mary Carter, and Blanche Clash, who all preceded her in death.

Accepting Christ at an early age, she received her religious foundation at Ames Memorial United Methodist Church. Upon graduating from Douglass High School in 1948, Bernice followed her love of creating to New York City, where she studied art. When she returned home, she worked as a supervisor for the Social Security Administration until her retirement in 1987, after more than 30 years of employment. Even in her retirement, Bernice was active, and she soon began working part-time for the University of Maryland Medical System, until the early 2000s. In addition to her love of art, Bernice loved cultivating flowers, was an avid fan of basketball and football, enjoyed volunteer work, and had a passion for completing crosswords and complex jigsaw puzzles.

Bernice was known throughout the city for her signature salt 'n' pepper hair, her fashionable clothes, and the way she strutted down the streets. She believed in dressing to the nines wherever she went—whether she was heading to church, shopping at her favorite department store, going to purchase flowers from the local market, or on her way to an appointment at her lifelong hairdresser, Byrd and Betty Beauty Salon. Everyone, from friends and family to passersby around town, knew Bernice for looking sharp in her red lipstick, blush, and polished nails. She thrived on feeling good—but looking even better—and believed a lady should always look her absolute best. These qualities attracted Genie to Bernice and resulted in their union on September 11, 1953.

The loving couple moved to West Baltimore, where they raised six children. Their home, on Woodhaven Avenue, was the epicenter of the neighborhood. Many will recall playing with the Hairston children or eating dinners cooked by Bernice, who they fondly called their “second mother.” Her pineapple upside-down cake, macaroni ‘n’ cheese, and sweet tea will go down in history as some of the best. After Genie’s death in 2000 and the death of her sons, DeHaven and DeWitt, in 2002, Bernice proudly lived on her own in downtown Baltimore. However, she was never alone, because she was surrounded by her loving daughters, sons-in-law, and multiple generations of grandchildren. Bernice left a legacy of showing love and care to each and every one of her children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren. Her presence at graduations, birthday parties, dance recitals, cookouts, cookie baking parties, and summer vacations will be missed, as well as her gift giving—but, most importantly, her love. Bernice’s grandchildren will never forget receiving her attention, Easter candy, and Christmas gifts; her daughters will never forget receiving their mom’s famous “grab bags” during the holiday season.

Bernice had high standards, and she expected nothing less from those around her. She raised her family to have class, dignity, strong faith in God, and pride in oneself. Mourning her loss are her four daughters, Gina Curtis, Heidi Leneau, Dawn Frye, and Robbi Hairston-Flood; her 11 grandchildren, DeHaven Hairston, Jr. (Danielle), Daren Hairston (Sammi), Shaunte Hairston, Kibibi Matthews-Brown (Rianna), Teri Weathers (William), Megan Scribner (William), Morgyn Curtis, Randall Leneau, Kendall Frye, Kirstyn Flood, and Chloe Flood; 19 great-grandchildren, Marquise Hairston (Taylor), Indya Hairston, Asia Hairston, DeHaven Hairston III, DeAira Hairston, Aaliyah Hairston, Tayla Belle, Peyton Golden, Solomon Matthews-Brown, Selah Matthews-Brown, Ayasha Hairston, DeAndre Hairston, Olivia Weathers, Grace Weathers, Tyler Leneau, Lana Scribner, Ivory Scribner, Sydnee Scribner, and William Carter Scribner; three great-great-grandchildren, Charlee Preston, Skylarr Ragler, and Declan Hairston; and four loving sons-in-law, Terence Curtis, Roderick Leneau, Martin Frye, and Curtis D. Flood. Bernice is also loved by a host of lifelong friends, neighbors, fellow church members, and family in Baltimore and on the Eastern Shore.

Bernice’s sharp tongue and humor are a reminder to always speak your mind; her love of the finer things are a reminder to always live up to your full potential. So, whether you knew her as “Mom,” “Grandma,” “GG,” “Grandma Bernice,” “Mrs. Bernice,” “Mrs. Hairston,” or “Bern,” one thing is for sure: you will never forget the sound of her laughter, the smell of her perfume, or the way she answered the phone—because one of Bernice’s favorite quotes, “It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all,” will resonate in the minds of those who were Blessed to have her in their life.

Bernice felt great pride in reaching 89 years of age—nearly a century of sharing her gift of life with her loved ones. Although we are thankful that she has returned to her Heavenly home, we will miss her dearly.

“ Your mother, grandmother, great-grandmother was a charming lady who I was blessed to know, not well, but I saw her often in the halls of Christ Church Harbor Apartments. We chatted about our families and other things old people talk about.....hearing, knees, noise of dirt bikes, etc. I never saw her look anything but well dressed and put together. I think we all looked up to her. I know I will miss her smiling face, but not as much as you do. I am so sad for your loss.

“ Ms. Bernice touched so many of us at Christ Church Harbor Apartments as she would venture out daily strutting her high heels and impeccable style of class and integrity. She tirelessly volunteered every week assisting the rest of us. We love you Ms. Bernice and will miss you dearly but God loved you most. Enter into your Heavenly rest.
