

Deborah Darlene Langhorn

June 5, 1956 - April 23, 2019

Deborah Darlene Langhorn was born on June 5, 1956 and was called to the pearly gates of heaven on April 23, 2019. She was the daughter of Sylvia Samuel, however was raised by Cynthia and Henderson Langhorn.

She was affectionately called "Bo" by her family. Deborah attended Harlem Park. She also attended the Patricia Stevens School of Modeling. She did most of her modeling in Hecht Company in Baltimore. She loved cosmetology and was a makeup artist. Later in her adult life, she relocated to Farmville, Virginia and became a traveling truck driver and then started her own trucking company, Langhorn. She was a self-made hardworking business woman that touched the lives of many people with her kindness.

Bo loved to work, make jokes and play cards. Whenever she would visit Baltimore, she was ready to play cards with her siblings and they would play for hours. She was a fun loving person that enjoyed being around family.

She was preceded in death by her mother, Sylvia Samuel; brother, Rodney Langhorn; three sisters, Ivy, Pamela and Robin Langhorn. Darlene leaves to cherish three brothers, Kevin Langhorn, Dwayne Langhorn and Dana Shird; eight nieces, Robin, Shaneka, Ivy, Ndia Jabree, Brooke, Kamira and Kaylin Langhorn; eight nephews, Lil Rodney, Charlie, Kevin, Devih, Darrien, Rodney Jr., Davon and Tony Langhorn; a host of other great-nieces, great nephews, that she loved dearly; among other relatives and friends.

God called his angel home gently wrapped his arms around Deborah and spoke with his grace "Job Well Done".
