

James J. Davis

October 3, 1936 - February 2, 2019

Opening Act

In a quaint little town known as Lamar, South Carolina a beautiful young couple, James and Dornie Davis, was very excited about the arrival of their son James "Jake" Davis. They knew that he would be a great sibling to Carol, Ruby, and Mildred, but didn't know that he would be the big brother to Major, Betty and Sue. The Davis household enjoyed farm life and family gatherings.

The Plot

Jake was very ambitious. He wanted to explore the world and didn't have a problem with hard work. With his colorful personality, it wasn't a surprise he landed a job at Eastman Kodak Company. When Jake came to Baltimore he found work alongside his brother Major at Fortune 500 company Frank Favazza and Son. While working at FFS, he had the brilliant idea of starting a night cleaning company where he employed his family. After that, when most men was thinking of retiring, being the charismatic man that he was, he landed a position with a NFL Hall of Famer. Jake had a love for cars and love to take long drives. He had a good sense of humor and a giving heart. He loved to help people and enjoyed telling stories of his days in South Carolina. The biggest joy of his life was his family: his wife, Clara Davis, children James, Angela, Jesse, Annette, Lela, Mitch, Jacqueline, Christian, Tracy, daughter n laws Ernestine and Evera. He doted on all is grand, great -grand and great- great grandchildren.

The Finale

Jake would like to let you know that his work here is done. He received an offer from God, for an appointment from which he will not be returning. This assignment comes with a huge sign-on bonus, a reunion with family and friends he has not seen in a long time. Job security is exactly 110 percent. His new mission takes him to a wonderful place where he will be socializing, driving beautiful cars and eating the finest cuisine. He left detailed instructions for his friends and family to celebrate his mission here, which has now been completed. We would like to let Jake know he did a wonderful job and to enjoy Paradise.

“ Uncle Jake, so many experiences, exciting times, we had over the years. You were so uncanny and quick witted, not just to me but to all who gathered around to hear you perform. You were really a once in a lifetime treasure that surely will be missed. Rest in peace Unc., your time hear on earth was enjoyable..
