

Wardell Terrell Blackwell

December 3, 1965 - April 26, 2019

WARDELL T. BLACKWELL SR., son of Gloria-Jean Harris and the late Wardell Blackwell, was born December 3, 1965 in Baltimore, Maryland.

He was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System and proudly graduated from one of the premiere vocational-technical high schools of the city, Mergenthaler High School, in 1983 with distinction in Architectural Masonry. Upon completion of his education, he worked in construction full-time, interrupted only by his seasonal work as a traveling carnival builder alongside his lifelong best friend, Anthony “Ant-Mo” Taylor. Terrell was affectionately known as “the enforcer” of his family due to his fierce protective nature. He rarely missed a family cookout or holiday; and was notorious for hiding the homemade apple pie from his grandmother’s Christmas dessert table. He grew up on small close-knit block, Prentiss Place, which he considered his neighbors like the Williams family, Manny and Rick to be extended family.

On April 21, 1995, he met the love of his life and dearest friend, Tammy Chappel and was blessed with his two youngest children Takyra and Darrien. He was true friend and loving family man.

He quietly departed this life at home on Friday, April 26, 2019. Terrell was preceded in death by his loving grandmother and family matriarch, Lucille Morris, and father, Wardell Blackwell.

His wonderful life will forever be cherished in the lives of his mother, Gloria Jean Harris; sister, Tonya Blackwell; brother, James Harris; sister-in-law, Sa Londa Harris; two daughters, Harriet Blackwell-Johnson and Takyra Blackwell; two sons, Wardell T. Blackwell Jr. and Darrien Blackwell; son-in-law, Rodney Johnson; two grandsons, Cross and Edge Johnson; two granddaughters, Amira Blackwell and Laiya Ray; a devoted nephew and god-son, Eric Sharp; and a host of uncles, aunts, nephews, nieces, cousins and friends.
