Alexander Vernon Gough, Jr. was born on Friday, October 13, 1946 to the late Vernon and Eleanora Gough in Baltimore, MD.

Vernon or Poppy, as he was affectionately known, was educated at Frederick Douglas High School, where he received his diploma.

Vernon met the love of his life on Memorial Day in 1964, and they married July 31, 1965. Together they raised their sons, Alexander III, Steven, Michael, and Eric (great-nephew), Vernon worked at Clifton T. Perkins for over 20 years, earning several accolades. He retired in 2008 at the age of 62.

He received Christ in his later years, thanking God for his praying wife.

He enjoyed playing cards in his early years, and continued playing cards later with his family. He loved game shows, and he knew all the answer. Among many things, he loved to work. He would finish his work shift, and sit at home waiting for a call to come in to complete an overtime shift. He was a man who taught his sons how to take care of their family.
