She had a melodious voice, when she sang “The Lord Is Holy” and “He’s That Kind of Friend” it would stir the souls of all who heard her.

On April 6, 1988, Annie gave birth to her only daughter Alexandria Orange who blessed her with five grandchildren (Ethan, Curtis Jr., Sarah, Taylor, and Tyler) to who loved immensely. She valued family ties and the sisterly bonds she shared with close friends all meant the world to her. Those family functions where she could eat, drink, and be merry and her many accomplices who shared in her favorite pastime shopping, gave her great enjoyment.

“ Annie! I miss you so very much! Although we did not see each other or speak often, I cherished the times we texted and shared moments. I really miss being able to do that with you. I know you and Rodney are spending most of your time -- TOGETHER! You have a BRAND-NEW set of lungs and you are HAPPY! I love you, My Sistah, Annie. Rest easy!

“ I'll never forget the first day I meet you, walking into 25th as a new tech in training and way out of my element. I left that day crying and not wanting to go back. But I did and spent 4 amazing years with you learning all kinds of stuff. I still use one of you you favorite saying today “you nasty water bug”. It broke my heart hearing you left, but I know you're in gods arms watching over all. Till we meet again

“ I can remember when I first met you, full of fun and laughter. You still kept going strong even through your illness, never letting it get you down. Never did I hear you complain, you were still your jovial self. My heart is heavy but I know you are at peace. Rest on Ann! As they say "to be absent from the body is to be present with the lord".
