

Angela M. Scott

March 26, 1950 - April 11, 2003

Angela M. Scott was born March 26, 1950 to the late Hyland Wars and Edna Scott in Brunswick, Maryland. She departed this life suddenly on April 11, 2003. Angie, as many affectionately called her, was an honors graduate of Northwestern High School, and achieved the Dean's List on several occasions before graduating from Baltimore City Community College. She continued her education at Morgan State University, Trinity College and George Washington University. A member of MENSA, Angela was an excellent student and received many academic awards. Angela's passions included research, computers, and systems analysis, a combination that she applied enthusiastically as a field service engineer at Digital Equipment Corporation. Angie's later disability did not diminish her tenacity; as she pursued a course of study in, and served as a Pastoral counselor. She also assisted many in recovery and was active in NA. Angela married William Smith III, whom she met while serving as a Specialist first Class in the United States Army. Out of this union two children were born William and Damian. She leaves to mourn: mother, Edna Scott; sons, William Smith IV, Damian Justice Smith; sister, Wenda; brothers, David D. Dodd, Phillip L. Dodd, Sr., Lesser Dodd, Daryl Dodd, Joey Dodd; sisters-in-law, Jacqueline Dodd, Terri Dodd, Shirlene Dodd; grandchildren, Hyjahdeerah, Kiawana, Diamond, James; nieces, nephews, relatives, special friends and Pigeons in the fellowship of NA, caregivers, and a host of other friends.
