

Annie M. Dixon

September 5, 1929 - August 25, 2010

ANNIE M. DIXON, daughter of the late Edith and Sampson Jones, was born on September 5, 1929 in Campbell County, Virginia. She departed this life on Wednesday, August 25, 2010.

She graduated from Rustburg High School in Campbell County, Virginia. She moved to Baltimore, Maryland and entered employment at Epstein's Department Store. She retired from Epstein's Department Store when the company went out of business. She spent most of her life living at 1221 N. Curley Street until she developed dementia and moved with her daughter, Debra Dixon-Lee.

She was baptized as a Jehovah Witness on July 15, 1957. She dedicated her life to Jehovah and served faithfully for more than 50 years.

Annie was a kind and caring woman who loved life and lived every moment to the fullest. She was a woman loved by all. She loved to cook. She cooked her famous fried chicken every Sunday for family and friends. Her home was the gathering place where we laughed, joked or cried if necessary. She embraced everyone who came to her home and made sure everyone felt welcome.

Annie was a devoted wife, mother, grandmother, daughter, sister, aunt, cousin, and friend to whomever came into her life.

Now reunited with her beloved husband and daughter: Andrew J. Dixon and Evelyn (Fay) Dixon; one sister and three brothers preceded her in death, Celestine Jackson (James), Mike Jones, Harry Jones and Wesley Jones. She leaves to cherish her memory and is survived by: her devoted and loving daughter, Debra Dixon-Lee(a.k.a Netta) and Valencia Wilkes (a.k.a Lennie); five sisters, Clara Johnson (Williams), Louise Burkes, Virginia Jones (Lloyd), Nancy Wood and Anna Canada; two grandchildren, Keisha Meade-Gilmore and Tekee Wilkes; three great-grandchildren, Jasmine Demby, Jaelin Gilmore and Kendall Dorsey; son-in-law, Kevin Lee; grandson-in-law, Mark Gilmore; and a host of loving half-brothers and sisters, nieces, nephews, cousins, relatives and friends.

Jehovah Himself will guard your going out and your coming in. From now on and to time indefinite. Psalm 121:
