“ I offer my sincere condolences. I am so sorry for your loss. Losing a loved one is so very hard to come to terms with, and it is something no family should have to endure. God never desired sickness and death for us, and he promises that soon he will wipe away all of our tears, and end death forever. Isaiah 25,8 Since Adam and Eve brought this sadness upon us, Jehovah God took steps to undo this legacy. 1st Cor 15:22 makes this wonderful promise, "For just as in Adam all are dying, so also in the Christ all will be made alive. Through the precious blood of the Christ, we will have an opportunity for everlasting life, and be reunited with our loved ones again. John 3:16, and John 11:25 are comforting scriptures to reflect on. May your precious memories of Anthony be a source of comfort to you in the days ahead, and if you would be interested in learning more concerning what God has in store for those who love him; please contact me at my e-mail address. Remember the happy days you shared with him.##imported-begin##Rita Johnson##imported-end##

“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of your loved one. Revelation 21:3-5 lovingly informs us that death, sickness, sorrow and pain will soon be done away with. John 5:28,29 says- "Do not marvel at this because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out". As 1 Corinthians 15:26 brings out, our "enemy death" will be "destroyed". May you receive much comfort and strength every time you think about these wonderful promises found in the Holy Bible.##imported-begin##Mrs. Sharon Hill##imported-end##
