

Antionette J McDonald

October 28, 1963 - July 28, 2022

Antionette J. McDonald was born on October 28, 1963 with her twin brother Anthony McDonald to Bobbie Jean McDonald and the late Lee Davis.

Antionette entered rest with the Lord on July 28, 2022

She received her education in the Baltimore City Public School System. After attending Lake Clifton Eastern High School. Antionette decided to further her education and career in becoming a certified nursing assistant. She jumped straight into the working field and never looked back. Antionette was a dedicated employee for fourteen years at Johns Hopkins Broadway Service where she was awarded many Employee of the month and Appreciation awards from her employer for her outstanding job performance.

Antionette was truly a remarkable woman with a great sense of humor, affectionate personality and she was known for always being able to tell you like it is. She was admired by everyone that entered her presence and for all of her funny saying during her conversations such as (OH MY and EXACTLY). Antionette had a heart of pure gold and her strongest gift was her devotion to her family, always giving all she had even if it was just a conversation.

She enjoyed spending her time with family and friends. Antionette loved cooking and having her own special recipes. She was a huge horror movie friends and a big fan of music- her favorites were oldies but goodies, R&B and slow jams. Antionette biggest passion was her children, especially her grandchildren, where she dedicated most of her time and love. She was a phenomenal grandmother and adored all thirteen of her grandchildren and two great-grand babies. “Annette”, “Nettie” and “Nana” is what she was affectionately known as, and her memory will be cherished FOREVER.

Antionette was preceded in death by her two beloved sons Brian Winder and Tristan Burroughs, two sisters Denise Bell and Victoria McDonald, and brother Albert McDonald.

She leaves to cherish her memory: her mother, Bobbie McDonald; four sisters, Rochelle, Sarelle, Karen and Nanette; two brothers, Anthony and Jeffrey; two daughters, Shanika and Unikue; six granddaughters, Briana, Asiana, Da’Khai, Tyler, Kanyah and Camden; seven grandsons, Da’Shawn, Lamar Michael, Darian, Liam, Jace and Johan (twins); two great-grandsons, Kenneth and Brycen; godmother, Denise Anderson: special companion, Jerome Carter; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins.
