“ Love you Ms. Augusta,
You were definitely a mother too me, always keeping Reggie and I in line. I am going to take care your son and make sure he stays out of trouble. Even though you have left us in the physical form, I know you will be with us as we walk through life in spiritual.
Love you!

“ Memories of our childhood in Vienna, Maryland, remain vivid in my mind. We lived next door to each other for many years, and then, later, she lived just down the lane. We spent many hours playing and laughing together. Years later, when we met occasionally at funerals and other gatherings, we picked up where we left off, never missing the chance to reminisce and share old memories. I treasure our early childhood days together, just as I treasure our continued friendship over the years. We are going to miss her, and I know how much her family feels bereaved at this time. But I am comforted and will comfort them with the knowledge that “the presence of her absence does not mean the absence of her presence in our lives.” She will live with us forever, and we feel blessed to have known her and shared in her life.
