“ Hello ! Coleman's ! May 26,2007 was a very sad for you all.May knowing that others care help to heal the pain. There is a greater day coming in which the bible say at John 5:28, many will be resurrected,happy news to hear. Mr. Avon used his life to the full with his family and enjoying his work too. The time is coming when we all will never have to lose a dear one and be happy all the time as Ps.145:16 say. I am looking forward to that happening . May all the precious memories of Mr.Avon stay close. Sincerely, Lillian Crosby.###imported-begin##Lillian Crosby###imported-end##

“ I am sorry to learn of Mr. Coleman's death. I would like to express my condolences to his family and friends. The loss of a loved one is very painful that is why the Bible calls death our enemy. At 1 Corinthians 15:26 God promises to do away with that enemy and all the pain it causes. I sincerely hope that this encouraging word from God, "who cannot lie", will comfort your heart (Titus 1:2).###imported-begin##Valerie Johnson###imported-end##

“ To the family and friends, I offer my condolences. It truly is unfortunate that we must experience the sorrow associated with the loss of one we love. May you find comfort and strength from the "God of all comfort" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4 ) who promises at Isaiah 66:13, "Like a man whom his own mother keeps comforting, so I myself shall keep comforting you people."###imported-begin##Gwen Winston###imported-end##

“ Lela, we are all so sorry that we can't be there with you today at the funeral service. I remember when Avon used to come to Sumter on the weekends while he was in the Army. We would always look forward to seeing him in his uniform. Even though you are now the last of Aunt Hannah's children, we know how strong you are. Keep the faith and we will continue to keep you in our prayers. We love you. Uncle John Wesley, Aunt Wilhelmenia, Deloris, Connie & Jimmie###imported-begin##Deloris Fulwood McDowell###imported-end##
