“ My sincere condolences to the family and friends of Ms. Handy. It seems so unfair that death should have the power to take away someone we love. However, the bible is a source of comfort particularly at Acts 24:15 which expresses a resurrection hope. Yes, Almighty God Jehovah, through his Reigning King, Jesus Christ, will bring back our love ones into a paradise. May you all continue to find comfort and encouragement from the Holy Scriptures.##imported-begin##V Adams##imported-end##

“ To the family, I offer my sincere sympathy. It is truly unfortunate that we must, at times, experience the sorrow and grief associated with the death of one we love. Know that soon we will have relief from such sorrow forever. God promises us at Rev 21:3,4 that there will be a time when death will be no more and the tears associated with it will also be wiped away. As we patiently await this day, may this promise provide you with comfort.##imported-begin##Gwen Winston##imported-end##

“ Death is such a sorrowful thing that we shouldn't have to go through. It was never part of God's purpose for us to lose those we love in death. I feel so sad for your family, and I hope the comfort of the resurrection bring you some solace, At John 5,28,29 Jesus said: Donot marvel at this, for the hour is coming when all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out" Soon there will be no more tears of grief, but only tears of joy as we welcome our loved ones back from the grave, and they will never ever die again. May you have peace.##imported-begin##R Johnaonr##imported-end##
