

Barbara Jean Walls

September 23, 1947 - September 19, 2019

Barbara Jean Robinson was born on September 23, 1947 to Jeigo Icey Robinson and Lillian Obelia Robinson in Mannakin-Sabot, Virginia. She was the adored baby sister to six brothers and sisters.

In 1977, Barbara married Edward Walls, Sr. and was a devoted wife until his death. She was a loving mother that instilled values, morals, and work ethic into her children. The consummate homemaker, her home was immaculate, her children were well-behaved, and she made sure that she prepared dinner for her family each night.

Barbara loved her family, and they adored and respected her. She was there to meet any need, listen to any problem, share every triumph, and impart wisdom with a smile. Her loving family includes two daughters, Rhonda O. Robinson and Editha J. Robinson; one cherished son, Edward L. Walls; two grandsons, Jerrae L. Smith and Michael M. Winston; one great-grandson, Zyion E. Winston; one great-granddaughter, Ryan A. Smith; three sisters Lorraine B. Smith, Flora O. Smith, and Juanita R. Fisher; three brothers, Grayson J. Robinson, James T. Robinson, and Earl I. Robinson; a host of adoring and devoted nieces, nephews, and other relatives.

She was also admired and loved by her work family. More than 20 years ago, she began her career with Butler, Williams & Skilling, P.C., where she worked as the office manager. later, she transitioned with Williams & Skilling, P.C., where she worked until the very end of her life. She valued and took great pride in her work.

Her son Edward described her as, "One of a kind. She was everything, a nurturer, mother, father, friend, counselor...just love." Her niece, Gail, described her as, "The Rock of the Family." Another niece, LaVern, said, "Auntie was the catalyst of the family."

Her beautiful spirit, hearty laugh, big smile, exceptional cooking, tireless dedication to her family, unsurpassed work ethic, style, elegance, and grace will be greatly missed, but she left a legacy to remember, honor and model.
