

Barbara L. Young

March 25, 1945 - June 13, 2013

BARBARA “BUNNY” LOUISE YOUNG, beloved daughter of Charles and Clara Young, was born on March 25, 1945 in Baltimore, Maryland. She departed this life on June 13, 2013 after a brief illness.

“Bunny” received her education at Edmondson Senior High School in Baltimore, Maryland. She was employed as a Claims Reviewer II by the Maryland State Workmen’s Compensation Board in October, 1967. She remained there for over forty-six years, until her call home.

“Bunny” was mother/sister/aunt and in some cases grandmother to the young people she met. They immediately felt the love she had for them. To her daughters, she was everything. To her brothers, she was everything you could want in a sister. Loving, caring, attentive to the needs of others, a cheerful giver, are just a few of the many words that describe the very soul of “Bunny”.

“Bunny” was a lifetime resident of the 900 block of West Fayette Street.

“Bunny” was preceded in death by her father, mother and brother, John Young.

She leaves behind to cherish her memory: daughters, Bridget and Diana; brothers, Charles and James; grandchildren, Danielle, Briana and Shawn; nephews, Eric and Frank; nieces, Jacqueline, Ingar and Celeste; a number of great-nephews and great-nieces; and a host of other relatives and friends.

She also leaves to cherish her memory: a number of people who will always think of her as “Bunny.”
