

Bernard Edmund Washington

August 4, 1960 - November 28, 2022

Bernard Edmund Washington, son of the late William H. Washington Sr. and Laura A. Washington, was born on August 4, 1960 in Baltimore city. He was the 12th of 13 children.

Bernard was educated in the Baltimore City Public School system. He received his High School diploma from Northwestern Senior High School. One year later, Bernard joined the United States Marine Corp. He was one of the survivors in the 1983 Beirut bombing in Lebanon.

After serving his term in the United States Marine Corp Bernard worked several years for BFI trash removal as a truck driver. From there he started working for Denver heat Treat as a welder until the company closed and relocated.

Bernard enjoyed watching westerns, wrestling and other sports. He also enjoyed spending time with his grandchildren.

Bernard leaves to mourn his two daughters, Tesha Smith-Bey (Leon) and Ieisha Washington; son Bernard Washington Jr.; four grandchildren Kayla Smith-Bey, Keon Smith-Bey, Maliah Lucas and Harmony Lucas; five sisters Beatrice Jenkins (Theodore), Dorothy "Puggy" Eaton, Joyce Carroll, Barbara Finch (Melvin), Laura "Cookie" Washington; three brothers William H.

Washington-Bey Jr., Joseph J. Washington, and Robert Washington; twenty-four nieces and nephews and a host of relatives and friends. Four sisters preceded him in death Victoria Washington, Maude Lewis, Gloria Washington, and Nannie Nicholson.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. Matthew 5:16
