“ My condolences go out to your family at this very sad time. Please find comfort in the Bibles message at (Revelation 21:4) And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away.” 1Corinthians 15:26 As the last enemy, death is to be brought to nothing. Please be assured of God's promises.

“ To the family of Mrs. Matthews:

I wanted to send my deepest condolences to your family. May the memories of her help to ease your pain of sorrow.

I also have lost loved ones to this enemy death, but I know that death will be destroyed according to 1 Corinthians 15:26.

In the meantime we can gain comfort knowing that our loved ones are not suffering but is asleep in death waiting to hear Jesus voice & come out of the graves; John 5:28 & 29.

I will keep your family in my thoughts & prayers.

Love,

To Ms Mathews and Lt. Johnson,

I wish send my deepest condolence to your family.

The Love I Showed You

The love I showed you was a caring one.

A love that had some laughter and pain

I gave you a love that had no boundaries or limitations.

The love I showed you had no special qualifications or requirements you had to meet.

The love I showed you overlooked faults and weakness. but yet remain strong to stand on your own two feet.

When you sit down and think about me when I am gone.

Do not think about how long

I will be gone or where I have gone

Just think of how much I loved you.

If I was to pass away suddenly, leaving all minds and hearts wondering, remember this one thing

"I loved being loved by all those who loved me".

But do not come to see me wearing colors of black and gray and veils to hide you face from me.

Come to see me with a smile on your face and a promise in your heart that you shall see me again.

You will not see me as I am here.

You shall see me again with bright eyes open and arms outstretched waiting for you to come home.
