“ I am forwarding the most sadly heartfelt condolence to your entire family from the Holden family. Alton, Lorease and Billy grew up next door to us. We considered them as our extended family. When Hurricane Hazel hit our area the three oldest Holden children (Pete, Bobby and Jimmie) had just got off the school bus trying to walk home, against the wind. Billy was with us and saw we were have a very hard time so he got a very firm grip on the three of us and pulled us home against the wind. Even though we were screaming, crying and yelling from fear, Billy never showed any fear. His main goal was to get us home our of harms was. While growing up he would come to our house after school to play. The only problem was that we wanted to get to the playing and Billy would make sure we did our school homework and after school chores first. Not only did we have to do them first but the school homework had to be complete and correct. Billy would also buy me comic books to read. The Sherrod family love will always be embedded within the Holden family heart.

Other scriptures even show us that our dear loved ones will be resurrected right back here to a beautifully restored paradise earth. Our prayers are with your family,
