“ Bobby was the nicest guy ever. I went to Southeast in 1968. I have tried to look him up many, many times. I am so sorry that I finally find him now when it is too late to tell how nice he was to me when I was freshman. May God remember him in His Kingdom!

“ I’m truly sorry for your loss. I’d like to offer you some words of encouragement from the Scriptures, which greatly helped me in my time of need. Some people may say that it was God’s will for their loved one to be taken away. James 1:13 says, “When under trial, let no one say: ‘I am being tried by God.’ For with evil things, God cannot be tried nor does he himself try anyone.” This tells us that God is not the cause of our suffering regarding the loss of someone we love. The Scriptures also tell us that God’s original purpose was for humans to live forever in perfect health. God also ensures us through the Bible that he intends to realize that purpose. A wonderful change must occur first. John 5:28, 29 says, “Do not marvel at this because the hour is coming in which all those in memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out.” There will be a resurrection of our dead loved ones right here on earth! We can look forward to a time when we can embrace them once again with all of their youthful vigor and health. After the resurrection, God plans to restore the earth to a paradise, cleansing it from all crime, suffering and pain. Revelation 21:4 says: “And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away.” There is so much hope and encouragement in the Bible. I look forward to the time when death will no longer be a source of distress. This can offer some comfort in times of grief. I hope that this information helped you. Please send my condolences to the family.##imported-begin##Tia Thompson##imported-end##

“ Please accept my sincere sympathies. May you take comfort and strength in knowing what Jesus himself said, 'all those in the graves will hear his voice and come out (John 5:28,29)'.##imported-begin##A. Jackson##imported-end##

“ I would like to extend my deepest sympathy to the family and friends of Bobby Sylvester Vanlandingham. Losing a loved one in death is truly a difficult time. This is a pain that Jehovah God promises will one day no longer exist (Revelation 21:3,4). May you take comfort in knowing that our loving Heavenly Father promises us that soon all those in the memorial tombs will come out to life on a paradise earth by means of a resurrection (John 5:28,29 and Psalms 37:29). As you await the fulfillment of this promise, may you find comfort from "the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort who comforts us in all our tribulation" (2 Corinthians 1:3,4).##imported-begin##S. “ I would like to express my sympathy to the Vanlandingham family. The loss of a loved one can result in deep sorrow that's why the Bible calls death an "enemy." But, please be assured that God promises to do away with that enemy and all the pain it causes, according to 1Corinthians 15:26, Isaiah 25:8 and Revelation 21:4. Yes, these are the promises of God, who cannot lie.-Titus 1:2. May your cherished memories and God's Word of Truth comfort your heart.##imported-begin##Valerie Johnson##imported-end##

“ Death is an enemy. It came into the human family through the disobedience of one man, Adam. Through the obedience of one man, Jesus, the sin of man with all of the after effects thereof will be removed. Jesus has the keys of Death and Hades and will use these to release all those bound by death. Rev 1:18. Isaiah 26:19 shows that our dead ones will live again on the earth made new by God's Kingdom. This is what Jesus told us to pay for at Matt 6:9,10.##imported-begin##Leon Johnson##imported-end##
