

Brenda L. Wilson

April 17, 1960 - April 27, 2015

Brenda L. Wilson, daughter of the late Bernice Wilson and Elijah Mack, was born April 17, 1960 in East Palatka, Florida. She departed this life suddenly on April 27, 2015. She is preceded in death by her sister, Wilhemenia Bowen.

She received her education at Houston Wood High School. Two years later she gave birth to her son, Danyell Wilson. Defeating the odds as a single parent, Brenda continued her education by attending the nursing program at Union Memorial Hospital, where she graduated with her associate's degree in Nursing. After graduating from nursing school she worked at Union Memorial Hospital for 15 years. She then went to work at Blue Cross/Blue Shield as a senior appeals analyst until she retired in 2012.

Brenda loved traveling, going on cruises, shopping, line dancing, bowling, and most of all being with her family. She could put together a party in no time, and if anyone knew Brenda it was not a party without a spades game. She was a great mother, true friend, and had a great love for life.

She leaves to cherish her memory: her son, Danyell Wilson (Courtney); granddaughter, Azari Wilson; grandson, Donnie Smith; three sisters, Carol Butler, Emily Richardson (Darryl) and Clara Gloeckler; five brothers, Robert Wilson (Robyn), Elijah Butler, Alphonso Wilson, Joseph Wilson (Juliette) and Cleveland Wilson; goddaughter, Deana Rawlings; four special friends,

Jacqueline, Janice, Desiree; Meryl; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and dear friends.

“ To one of the nicest women I have ever met who ALWAYS treated me like family even though we were not blood-related (from spending nights at your house in our younger days when we visited Baltimore to making sure that we always ate good). To Antoine & the rest of the family...Hang in there & stay strong. R.I.P. Aunt Brenda... You will be truly missed.
