“ I offer my sincere condolences to the family of Carol. At such difficult times we often wonder, why this had to happen to my loved one. Death is an experience so hard to come to terms with, because we want so badly to have our loved one back with us once again. God never desired this sorrow for us, because he hates death, and desires all to live eternally in peace and happiness. That is why he sent us his son Jesus to teach us about his compassion and love, and the wonderful blessings that he has in store for those who love him in faithfulness. One day he promises an end to this enemy death which causes us so much pain. 1st Cor 15:26. After sickness and death, and all violence is gone, then Jehovah's purpose will be fulfilled; a purpose to see to it that all who rest their hope on him will not be dissappointed. By means of his son, many will be brought back to life. John 3:16 lovingly reminds us: "For God loved the world so much that he gave his only-begotten son so that everyone exercising faith in him might not be destroyed, but have everlasting life. Imagine, everlasting life in peace and security. That is God's promise to us. Psalm 37:11. May your precious memories of Carol be a great source of comfort to you in the days ahead.
