

Carolyn J. Chambers

May 11, 1954 - November 18, 2014

CAROLYN JEAN CHAMBERS, daughter of Alice D. Moore and the late Arthur H. Lewis, was born on May 11, 1954 in Baltimore, Maryland. She departed this life on November 18, 2014.

Carolyn graduated from Atholton High School in Columbia, Maryland in 1972. In 1974, she married Charles Chambers, Sr., and out of their 35-year union, two children were born, Charles Jr. and La Keesha. In 1989, she obtained an Associates Degree in Early Childhood Education from Catonsville Community College in Catonsville, Maryland. For the past 12 years, she dutifully worked as a teacher at The Goddard School in Columbia, Maryland.

Carolyn previously worshipped at Community Baptist Church in Jessup, Maryland with her mother, Alice Moore. In 1980, she became a devoted member of Locust United Methodist Church in Columbia, Maryland, where she sang in the choir, served as a communion steward and was a member of the Matured Christians Club. She also attended the church's Wednesday-night Bible study classes faithfully. Carolyn loved her family and, despite her recent illness, was a dedicated caregiver for her mother until the very end. Carolyn was also truly passionate about educating children — especially her own. She loved to cook and was always humming a tune. She was a devoted daughter and mother, teacher and colleague, and a true friend. She will be sincerely missed by everyone who knew her.

She leaves to mourn: one son, Charles Jr. ("C.J."); one daughter, La Keesha; her mother, Alice; two stepsisters, Andrea Denise Mason and Shirley McKnight; one stepbrother, Ronald Moore; four aunts, Shirley Dorsey, Mary Louise David Louise Thomas and Mary Johns; three goddaughters, Jinene Myers, Shane' Dorsey and Christina White; as well as several nieces, nephews and a host of other relatives and friends.
