

Carolyn Faye Williams

February 18, 1948 - October 7, 2001

Carolyn Faye Williams was born in Princeville, North Carolina on February 18, 1948. She was the daughter of the late Edith Boyd Tillery and the late Walter Mack Shaw. She was called to her eternal home on October 7, 2001 in Baltimore, Maryland. Faye, as she was affectionately called, attended Edgecombe County public schools in Princeville and Tarboro, NC. She graduated from W.A Pattillo High School in 1966. Following graduation she moved to Baltimore, Maryland. In July 1968 she married Elijah (Billy) Williams. Two daughters were born of this union—Angela Marie Williams and Tanya Rochelle Williams. Faye was a loving mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, and adopted mother to many other young people. Faye joined Macedonia Baptist Church in Princeville, NC, at an early age. Shortly after moving to Baltimore, she joined Leadenhall Baptist Church. Upon moving to Reisterstown, MD, she moved her membership to St. Luke United Methodist Church, where she attended services as often as her health permitted. Faye loved to cook. She began working at Millers Delicatessen in 1968, and worked there until she became disabled in 1997. Friends and relatives looked forward to her famous chicken salad platters. Though in poor health and wheelchair bound for a number of years, she continued cooking for her family almost daily until a week before her death. She leaves to cherish her memories: her husband, Billy Williams; two daughters, Angela M. Williams and Tanya R. Williams, of Baltimore, MD; two grandsons, Jermaine Williams and Juwan Campbell; one granddaughter, Dalisa Williams; one great-granddaughter, Machelle Powell; four sisters, Brenda Bridgers, Babylon, New York; Marie Ward, Baltimore, Bernadine Whitehead, New York, Geraldine Pettaway, Philadelphia, PA; five brothers, Micheal Boyd, Walter Shaw, Jr., and Milton Whitehead, Princeville, NC; Jap Pettaway, Philadelphia, PA and McArthur Pettaway, Washington, DC; stepfather, Ervin Tillery; aunts, Rosa Owens and Evelyn Faulk and uncle, Alfred Boyd of Baltimore; cherished cousin, Joy L. Faulk-Lyons; brothers and sisters-in-laws, nieces, nephews, and a host of other relatives and friends.

“ I Wrote This Poem For A Family That I Feel Extremely Close To And From Me To You I Send You My Condolences. Gone But Not Forgotten In my memories you are Forever trying to strive And although you're gone right now In my heart you are still alive Your face is in my memories Your soul is in my heart So early in life you were taken And we were torn apart Everyday I miss you even more You were the greatest person I knew And even though you're gone right now that will forever be true Your angel looked down at you And thought it was time to take you away He took you up to heaven Although I really wanted you to stay Through good time and bad Through laughter and tears You and I were always one Until I had to face my fears Nothing means more to me Than what we shared And no one in this world Could ever compare I'm hurting so much Without you here Every little reminder Brings me to tears My life has changed Since you've been gone And every single day I try to be strong I am trying to get on with my life But its going to take a lot of time Because this is just so hard To put in the back of my mind There is so much I want to say So many things I wish we could say So many things I wish we could do My feelings for you, I wish I could've expressed But all I can do is tell you how much I miss you I know its hard to do this But I want you to promise me That even though you're gone Best friends we'll always be My life will never be the same Because there's a special part of my heart Which is now cold and totally empty Because its been sadly broken apart Although I can't touch you any more I can still feel your soul And trying to come to terms with you I still cannot control Living with you my heart aches Not telling you how I felt Was my only mistake but here and now is where we are And every time I need and want you I'll just look up at my star When I see it glisten and sparkle I'll know we're together And I'll reminisce our memories Which will last and be cherished forever Oh and there's one more thing I again want to do And that's to just simply say " I really miss you!
