“ Grandma I love more than words can express. I know that you knew that and I know how much you loved us. It hurts not being there today but I have no doubt you'd understand. This hurts more than I could have ever imagined. I will love you always. Remembering all the lessons you taught me, the heartfelt conversations, the joy when I came up or you came down, and even the chastisement when I let my emotions get the better of me. I'm glad I was able to give you flowers when you could enjoy them and spoil you every chance I got but they will always be bittersweet memories for I know I won't get another chance. Thank you for everything you did, said, and always just being a phone call away, but most of all always remembering us at 326. I love you so! 💔💔💔💔
