“ Aunt Charlene, I've been putting this off, but I wanted to publicly honor you before this year ends. I still can't believe you're gone! There is a crater in my heart that I doubt will ever be filled until I see you again in heaven. I MISS YOU SO MUCH! Aside from being my aunt, you were like my mom in so many ways. The tears stream down as much today as they did the day you left. You will forever be missed & loved. Some of my earliest childhood memories are spending time with you. When you took vacation to come & visit me, I was going through some hard times...but you being here made everything alright. I miss talking to you & hearing you laugh. No matter what was going on, you always said something encouraging to help me keep going. The strength of your faith always ignited mine & helped me to keep keeping on. It's been truly difficult without you these past months. There will NEVER be another Aunt Charlene! As much as you're not supposed to have favorites, you were always my favorite aunt. I love you with all of my heart!

Your niece,

Ny

“ To the family of Charlene D. Butler, I extend my condolence. Look to the hills which come your help and know that all your help comes from the lord who made heaven and earth. Remeber the good times that you had with her, and also remember that god make no mistakes. I will miss her as well. Weeping may endure for a night but joy will come in the morning. I will keep you all in my prayers.

Sincerly Yours,
Lorraine

“ To the family of Charlene D. Butler, I extend my condolences. How well I know the sting of death having said good bye to so many family members. But my study of the scripture has revealed to me the cause of death and how God will correct it. If you consider such text as Romans 5:12 and Acts 24:15 you too can gain that comfort you need to get you through this process. Just know that you will walk and talk with Charlene again.
