“ Charles F. Curbeam

“ I am just now finding out this news of Charles Curbeam. I worked with Charles almost 18yrs ago when i was with Lens Crafters at the Location in Hunt Valley. I was new to the company at that time and Charles was the lab manager. He was a guy that didn't warm up right away, more or less you had to get to know him first. Charles likely saw me as just a young retail "sales" guy (i was only 22/23 ) in the beginning but after a while begin around him everyday, we slowly became more than just employees. Charles and i had become good work friends. He showed me a LOT about how to do the job RIGHT. That was incredibly important to him, as he was very serious about quality of the work and the quality of the store as well. I loved working with Charles and he really ended up being one of the people in that company that i truly appreciated knowing the most. As time passed, even years after i departed that location, and then years after that., departing the company, he was one that i always remembered. It saddens me that his life was made short in that he was definitely a blessing and light to those who took the time to know him. May God bless his family and his memory

“ I remember working with Charles at "Two Guys dept. store". I used to envy him at times because he was smart and still going to college. I pray for his family.
