“ I am so sorry for your loss. May you find comfort in the scriptures at Isaiah 25:8 "He will actually swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will certainly wipe the tears from all faces."

“ I am very very sorry for your loss, it was total shock to me that the man i joked with and looked forward to seeing and talking with each had passed. He was a real man, one that cared for his family and saw good in all he met. It was a privelege to have know Charles, I only wish this world was filled with good men like Charles. He will be missed greatly and i hope that one day in the future when it is my time that Charles and I will meet again and again i will see his smile and enjoy his company.

God bless

“ My condolences to the family of Mr Charles Lewis, Death is something that we will never become accustomed to. That is one reason the Bible calls it an enemy.(1Corinthians 15:26) That verse goes on to show that soon it will be brought to nothing. It will no longer exist. But you may wonder about the ones we have already lost. The answer to this is also covered at Acts 24:15, John 5:28-29. You have sincere condolences and may these scriptures bring you comfort.

“ I was stunned and so saddened the other day when I heard that Charlie had gone "home". We had talked that morning and as was always his way....he was smiling, laughing at my silly jokes and whistling while he worked.

I'd told him many times how thankful I was that he took such good care of us....mentally and physically. He would get off the elevator and the whole floor brightened up....he was that special. I so looked forward to his daily visits to my area. My family is in prayer for your family and God will support and comfort you. His plans are way better for us than our plans. I can't wait to see him again and laugh at his silly jokes.

In His love,

“ Charles was a very kind man. He always looked at me and said "what's up Man!!" every single day. We would always joke about football and whatever else was current. He was a good guy and will be missed.

My thoughts go to his family.

“ Dear June and family,
I am so saddened to learn of Charles' passing away. The one thing I do know is that God WILL take care of you and He knows all. Only God can comfort and provide the kind of peace that will sustain you through life's most difficult times. Even now, amidst the sorry, I have fond memories of Charles and Q going at each other in the barber shop...and the joy and laughter their "comedy routine" brought to their clients. Please know that I am praying for you and the family and close friends at this time.

Love,

“ Charles was the type of person who brightened your day when you had the chance to talk to him. During my time knowing him, I've thoroughly enjoyed getting to know him and there is not a day in the world that he didn't walk into the office with a smile on his face and say hello to you. I will never forget him and pray that friends and family will remember him as the positive and caring person that he was. My sincerest thoughts go out to those who knew him.

Oh God, I don't know this guy personally but for sure there is something in him I'm going to miss. The last time I was able to talk with Charles is Friday at around 2PM and I was about to go home and I said "you're working hard" and he said "yeah I'm about to go in half an hour and be with my family"...it's shocking to hear such very active person and suddenly he's gone forever....my prayer and thoughts are with his family, close relatives and friends.
