

Charles L. Williams

September 12, 1949 - August 16, 2016

Charles L. Williams, the precious son of Amanda Williams was born on September 12, 1949. Charles also known as Will, departed this life on August 16, 2016, after a sudden illness.

Charles was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System. After serving in the United States Army, he received a Bachelor's of Arts Degree. He lived and worked in Seattle/Tacoma Washington, as a counselor. He later moved to Houston, Texas where he worked as a parole officer. He was actively involved in his local church in Houston, as well as being a member of several civic organization. He was well liked and respected by his colleagues in the criminal justice community. He worked as state parole and probation officer, for the state of Texas.

Charles married Eunice Williams, of this union, there were no children.

Charles was a traveler and great conversationalist. He was very comfortable with meeting new friends, as well as maintaining the relationships of friends that he grew up with in the Baltimore area. He was known to be a sharp dresser. He also enjoyed music, good food and the arts.

Charles loved his mother and was devoted to her. He would come to Baltimore as often as he could to spend time with her as well as his other family members who resided in the Baltimore area.

He leaves to mourn; his mother, Amanda Williams; an older brother and great friend, Arthur Williams; younger brother, Edward Whitfield; his niece, Eureka Whitfield; nephew, Edward Whitfield Jr.; great-niece, Edith Whitfield; his ex-sister-in-law, Betty (Dimples) Lee; a host of other relatives and friends.
