

Charlesetta Sara Phillips

October 17, 1937 - April 23, 2002

Charlesetta Sarah Phillips, daughter of the late Eglon Lorenzo and Edna Blanche Burton, was born on October 17, 1937 in Manhattan, New York. She departed this life on April 23, 2002 after a lengthy illness. She received her education at Central Commercial High School in Manhattan, New York. During these years, she enjoyed playing baseball with her brothers and sisters. Upon completion of her education, she became employed at John T. Stanley's Soap Factory. She was a diligent employee for five years. On December 16, 1964, she married Carl Phillips, and out of this union two children were born, Carlton and Carla. She spent her years being a devoted wife, mother and grandmother. Throughout Charlesetta's life, she visited many houses of worship. With Charlesetta's loving spirit and quiet unassuming personality, she made friends wherever she went. Everyone who knew her will sincerely miss her. As her legacy drew to a close, lying in her daughter's arms, with son and granddaughter at her sides, she was called home to rest. She leaves to mourn: her husband, Carl Phillips; son, Carlton Phillips, daughter, Carla Phillips; granddaughter, Cynthia M. Gamble; grandson, Carlton Phillips, Jr.; mother-in-law, Elise Dixon; daughter-in-law, Valerie Phillips; daughter's fiancée and future son-in-law, DeAndre m. Clark; two brothers, Raymond M. Burton and Leonard Burton; three sisters, Kathleen J. Burton, Cora M. Cobham and Goldie E. Robinson; sister-in-law, Eula Burton; a host of nieces, nephews and friends.
