“ I have been trying to write this message for an hour. Our boys grew up together and til this day, they were still close friends. I remember when they were younger, wherever Christian was, Colby was never too far. I can only imagine how hard this loss may be for you all. I send you many hugs and love, along with my deepest condolences.

“ Cuz, GONE TO SOON is the only thing I can say right now. You and your siblings have always meant a lot to me, and will always mean a lot to me. I always felt that you were going to be special and be a shining light in this world. I never worried much, because I know everyone has their on journey and a refining period they need to go through, to become the person they are truly meant to be. I'm sad that I will never get to see the completion of your transformation, and for you to grow into the man I knew you would become. I miss you cuz. I love you always.

“ Christian's life ended much too soon. I met him as a one-year old baby, then as a adolescent, then as a teenager, but as a young adult, I somehow missed that part of his young life. I want you, the Clarke Family, to give thanks for the time you had with your first-born son here on earth, and to know that he is walking under the wings of the Lord now. My prayers go with you. Christian you will forever be missed, I watched you and Kai'Von grow as best friends from elementary school to grown men.. inseparable. You were always supportive, caring, extremely funny.. etc you was an amazing young man, I'll never forget every time I had to go to the hospital, and after it was over I saw Kai'Von and you. I appreciate all the times Christian that you was there being the truest loyal friend to my son Kai'Von. I love you 🐦 and you will truly be missed by the Saunders and Cook family,
