

Christine Alkins

December 15, 1953 - May 1, 2015

On December 15, 1953, Rose Williams and Joseph Roberts welcomed Christine Alkins into the world. Christine was born and raised in Trinidad, where she later had four children of her own Sharon, Rawle, Kerriann, and Avalon.

In 1985, Christine embarked on a new journey to the United States of America. Christine's goal was to provide her children with not only love, but access to all the opportunities the U.S. could offer. Christine migrated to New York, where she later became an ordained minister and opened a small ministry in Brooklyn. In her mid 40's, Christine embarked on another journey to pursue her education. In as little as 4.5 years while attending Mercy College, Christine obtained her Associate, Bachelor and Master degrees in Early Childhood Education. Christine worked as a New York City Teacher educating special needs children. Christine loved children and her biggest joy was spending time with her children and grandchildren, who brought endless joy to her heart.

On May 1, 2015, Christine embarked upon her final journey which led her to Heaven. May she continue to rest in peace with our Heavenly Father.

Christine is survived by: her children, Sharon Dantzler, Rawle Alkins, Kerriann Livingston (husband Dwayne Livingston), Avalon Dudley (husband Brian Dudley); sister, Bernadette Otley; ten grandchildren, Jonathan Dantzler, Rawle Alkins Jr., Justin Dantzler, Rashaun Alkins, Ryan Alkins, Jaron Alkins, Jayden Alkins, Christina Carter, Chad Carter and Skylar Alkins “ Mommy you were one of my favorite girls, I miss you and will always remember your laugh. I laugh, when I remember how you would tell people to "go rest themselves" when you wanted a break. You are with God now may you rest in peace. Love you sunshine!
