“ I extend my heartfelt condolences for the loss of your loved one. First Corinthians 15:26 lovingly reveals that our "enemy death" will be destroyed. There is much hope for our loved ones who have died because Acts 24:15 declares "there is going to be a resurrection". May you receive much comfort and strength from this wonderful hope found in the Bible.##imported-begin##Sharon Hill##imported-end##

“ I wish to extend my condolences to the family on the recent death of your loved one. Although death touches all families, nevertheless, it is not an easy thing to deal with, and we never get used to losing a loved one. Contrary to what many people believe, death was never a part of God's purpose for mankind. When he created our foreparents Adam and Eve, he gave them the prospect of living forever. Death was only introduced to us through their sin and rebellion. Fortunately, God does not hold us accountable for the choices they made, and he has made a way out of this situation for us through the ransom price paid by his beloved son, Christ Jesus. 1st Corinthians 15:22 promises, "For just as in Adam all are dying, so also in the Christ all will be made alive. John 5:25-29 tells us that Jehovah has given this son all authority to ressurect the dead, and one day they will hear his voice and come out of the memorial tombs. The dead are sleeping in Jehovah's memory, and when they hear Jesus's voice they will awaken from this deep sleep. In Mark 5:38=43 it tells us how Jesus ressurected a little 12-year old girl, and he let the people know that she was asleep. So just as he woke her up from the sleep of death, God promises that one day he will wake up millions who have died; and the fulfillment of the sign concerning the last days that we are living in shows that that time of the ressurection is coming real soon. May you be comforted by the hope of seeing Consuelo again, and if you would be interested in learning about these wonderful future blessings, please contact me at my e-mail address. Take care family, and may God give you much comfort.##imported-begin##R Johnson##imported-end##
