

Corrine Robinson

February 7, 1921 - June 20, 2012

CORRINE ROBINSON was born in Chuckatuck, Virginia on February 7, 1921 to Cora Lee Edwards and Robert Lee Edwards. She came from a family of nine boys and seven girls.

Corrine then migrated from Chuckatuck to Baltimore, Maryland in 1960 to be with her firstborn daughter Olivia.

Shortly after getting settled in Baltimore, Corrine gave birth to another baby girl Brenda. Corrine became a fixture in East Baltimore community while being devoted to raising her children, grandchild and great-grandchildren. She was a member of St. Joseph Freewill Baptist Church since the 1970's and sang on the Senior Choir and the Vocal Choir.

Corrine worked in a variety of domestic/ housekeeping jobs in Baltimore, Maryland. She worked at Stella Maris for nine years and retired in 1972. Corrine continued working as a domestic through 1972-1998.

she is survived by: one daughter, Olivia Jackson; granddaughter, Teresa Armstrong; son-in-law, Leonard Carmichael; two great-grandchildren, Dana D. Solomon and Charles (Miles) Armstrong; a younger brother, Tim Edwards; and two sister, Ernestine Delk and Delia Mae Barkcliff living in Virginia. She also has an adopted son, James Robinson that she has raised since birth.

There are too many nieces and nephews to mention.
