

Corwin Reginald Dawson

October 23, 1958 - December 13, 2008

CORWIN REGINALD DAWSON, beloved son of Melba Jones and Robert Dawson, began his journey to glory on December 13, 2008. Corwin was born and raised in Baltimore, Maryland. He was educated in the Baltimore public school system. He graduated from Paul Laurence Dunbar School and continued his studies at Morgan State University. He was an avid sports fan and enjoyed playing baseball in high school, won several trophies. Previously employed by Baltimore City, he was employed by Union Memorial Hospital Environmental Services until his illness. Christ United Methodist Church was his chosen place to worship. "Black," as he was known on the streets, was fun and kind-hearted. He enjoyed listening to the '70s music. The Temptations was one of his favorite singing groups. Five years ago he met and developed a binding relationship with his devoted friend Christine, who was supportive and involved in his care during his illness. God dispatched His angels to escort his soul from this earth to a heavenly realm early Saturday morning. He will sorely be missed. He leaves to cherish his memory: a loving mother, Melba Jones (Henry); father, Robert Dawson (Margaret); daughter, Coryetta; son, Corwin Jr.; maternal sister, Lora; three paternal sisters Anita, Veronica and Robin (paternal sisters Monica and Bernadette preceded him in death); two maternal brothers, Lyman and Craig; two paternal brothers, James and Tyrone; six grandchildren, aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins; a devoted and loving friend, Christine; and a host of other relatives and friends.
