

Daisy Helen Kasey

February 25, 1924 - April 24, 2015

On Friday, April 24, 2015 a precious soul. Daisy Helen Kasey left us, a voice we loved is still. A space in our hearts and home that can never be filled.

Daisy Helen (Bond) Kasey was one of eight children born to Dewitt and Ida Bond, tobacco and corn farmers in Bedford, Virginia on February 25, 1924. In 1946 after World War II she married the highly decorated Desker C. Kasey (deceased) of Hardford, Virginia. They later moved to Baltimore, Maryland.

Daisy attended Perkins Square Baptist Church. She was a warm and loving caring person who loved to travel and watch wrestling competitions on television. She loved children. She took child care and Red Cross sponsored classes for first aid and CPR. She was certified by the state of Maryland to provide day care in her home. She received several certificates for her excellent care. She loved her "children" and maintained relations with some well after they were no longer in her care.

Daisy leaves to cherish her memory: her two children, son, Desker C. Kasey, Jr., and a daughter, Barbara H. Kasey; grandson, Michael K. Holley; two great grandchildren, Aaron J. Holley and Aariel J. Holley; and her sister, Gracie Webb
