“ Danny E. Barnes Jr.

October 13, 2022 at 08:33 AM

“ I remember our high school days at Poly with Danny. He was always so pleasant and always sang a song in the hallways in between classes. He was a great person and always had a smile on his face. Holding on to the good memories we have when we lose a loved one is what will help help us get through the day and help us endure the pain. However we can find the best comfort in the hope that God promises in the Bible, at Rev 21:4. Soon ,God will void out the pain and distress that this world puts on us. God wants to comfort us and we can be sure he will fulfill his promise.

“ To say Danny was an AWESOME person is truly an understatement. Very rarely in this day and time do you come across someone so TRUE and GENUINE. Someone so FULL of life. Someone who could make you laugh even when you don't want to. So many times I've said "Danny I can't STAND you" after he said one of his many jokes or I got smart and he came back with an HILARIOUS clapback. That simply wasn't true. His smile, his laugh, his sense of humor, his craziness will SURELY be missed!!! We lost a REAL one here on earth but MY GOD gained and ANGEL IN HEAVEN!!! His friend are hurting but I know his family is hurting more. I'll continue to keep his mom, father, son, siblings and the rest of his family in my prayers. "To be absent on earth is to be present with the LORD" and I KNOW he's up there looking down on us all!!!! Danny you WILL BE MISSED!!!!

“ Danny was such an inspiration for my son. We were at awe when we came discover that I was the mom of James. He told me that was his boy and that he would look out for him. Danny was always the same. My heart was broken when I heard of this tragedy and so was my son. My prayers goes out to your mom, son and family.
