

Darlene Chrislyn Partlow

May 12, 1958 - January 10, 2023

Darlene Partlow (nee King) was born May 12, 1958, to the late James and Myrtle King. She departed this earthly world on January 10, 2023, after a difficult illness. God called her home to suffer no more because her work was done. Darlene was the third child born to her parents. Her brother, Zachary, preceded her in death.

Darlene had a dry sense of humor and an amusing personality. She loved family and would look forward to getting together with them at special celebrations that included birthdays, weddings, baby showers, and cookouts. Her dry humor would make anyone engaged in conversation with her laugh out loud. She spoke truth in her conversations, always leaving you with good advice or something to think about. Many things she expressed was because she had a love of God and accepted Jesus Christ as her personal Savior. Darlene grew up in Cherry Hill where she would be wooed by Wayne Partlow. After courting and dating, they married. There were no children born in this union, but she gave birth to three sons (Dantabein, Chucky, and Kadeem) fathered by Charles Booker who she met long after her marriage with Wayne ended. Although she and Charles never married, they had a loving extensive family relationship. The two of them were united for more than 40 years. Darlene attended Baltimore City Public Schools and graduated from Frederick Douglass High School in June 1975. She furthered her education at Strayer Business College and held several places of employment: Social Security Administration, BCPS Teacher's Aid, Wegman's and Giant Food Stores.

Darlene leaves to cherish her memory her longtime friend Charles Booker, Sr., her three sons-Dantebein Booker, Chucky Booker, Jr. (Candice Daughter-in-law), Kadeem Booker (Shantrese Daughter-in-law), Sister Deonne Jackson Jones, and eight grandchildren: Kareem, Quamaurie, Ke'shawn, Kai'den, Taniya, Taylen, Kassidy, Daylen and a host of many nieces, nephews, cousins, friends, other relatives and ex-coworkers.
