Obituary

A Word From Daurron

Lord, This is your Son Daurron speaking, You caught me just when I was about to bust one of my dance moves, You stop me right in my tracks. I stood there looking at you waiting for you to put my wings on my back. See the job you offering lord is hundred percent guaranteed. I don't need a check, victory is my payee. Hey, Ma don't cry for me, tell Shaniya and Da'Monte ,9:00, I want them sleep. I'm in heaven doing what I do best, I had an emergency call to heaven I must confess, this was not a test, I'm flying high with my air force ones, I don't need a bullet proof vest, like Charlie Wilson, "I'm Blessed". I made it to seventeen and done it all, I won't complain I'm with my god.
You Have Set Me Free,
I Got the Victory

“ Daurron was at school last year, working on a sensory project. He filled his container with sand, then smooth stones, marbles and seashells. Then he chose a twig rake to play in the sand. Finally, some tiny plastic dinosaurs. Daurron played in his little zen garden for awhile and then he covered all of his stones, marbles, seashells and dinosaurs with sand, using the silly twig rake. He carefully put the lid on the small container. I said “you’re going to give your zen garden to your little brother, aren’t you?” He gave his typical huge, beautiful grin and said “yea”. Daurron...awesome big brother:)

Daurron was a great young man. All of us on the school van loved him very much. When my grandson was on the van he took care of him for me while I drove. Daurron and another boy helped me move into my new apartment. He was the light of my life on the van. Please know that my heart goes out to you and your family. I can't be there for him so please kiss him for me. I am heart broken that I will never see his face again except on pictures. Love Cathy (van driver)
