

David Henderson

September 9, 1989 - May 9, 2008

David L. Henderson, son of John S. Henderson and Geneva V. Jobses, was born on September 22, 1989 at John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland. David departed this life on May 9, 2008. He was a 12th grader at Doris M. Johnson High School, determined to graduate in June 2008. He expressed an interest in pursuing Culinary Arts after graduation. David did his best at anything he tried to accomplish. David had a very loving, quiet and outgoing spirit. He had a bright smile, was always full of laughter and loved to tell jokes. His sense of humor was out of this world. He was not much of a partier unless his brothers were going. David was crazy about video games, and man did he love to eat. His favorite foods were beef oodles of noodles, cereal (especially frosted flakes and homey bunches of oats), shrimp fried yak, and caramel popcorn puffs with milk. Family was David's first priority. He and his siblings were very close and truly enjoyed spending time together. Affectionately referred to by his big sister as "David boo boo boo," and "Little Man" by his brothers. All "the boys" (as their sisters often refer to them as) were so close they even enjoyed sharing and wearing each other's clothes. David could be so annoying to his siblings at times as he was lazy when it came to doing house chores. During family gatherings, David was laid back. He really loved his true friends, and he had a reputation for being respectful, helpful and very considerate of others. The most beautiful thing about David was that he accepted Christ into his heart two weeks before his death. Now that is something that we all should rejoice about. (To God be the Glory!). David leaves to mourn: his mother, Geneva Jobes; his father, John Henderson; a devoted step-father, Irvin Jobes; and in his immediate family he leaves to mourn, two sisters, Laonna and Sonya; two brothers, Marcus and Jermaine, and one niece Samia (who David called "Booda"); one grandmother, Shirley; one step-grandmother, Annette; nine aunts, six uncles, and a host of relatives and friends.

“ Please accept my condolences for the loss of your loved one. First Corinthians 15:26 lovingly assures us: "As the last enemy, death is to be brought to nothing". John 5:28,29 states: "Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out." May you receive much comfort and strength every time you think about this wonderful hope found in the Bible.##imported-begin##Sharon Hill##imported-end##

“ I am so very sorry for your loss. I know how painful it is to lose a loved one in death. It's like an unreality. This was never what God wanted for us, and one day soon he promises to end death forever. 1st Cor 15:16 says: "As the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing." Then he promises that all the dead will come back to life in the ressurection. Acts 24:15, John 5:28,29. I pray for you, and hope that you recieve much comfort to help you to cope, and face another day.##imported-begin##Rita Johnson##imported-end##

“ Geneva, I am so sorry to hear about David. I can only imagine the pain that comes along with his passing. My prayers are with you and your family to Trust in the Lord, that He will make all things right. Just remember that GOD is still in control and He is with you and your family. Be encourage to continue your walk with Christ. I will keep you and your family in my prayers. Weeping may last for a night, but joy comes in the morning. Don't allow the adversary to rent space in your mind, stay strong in the Lord and He will direct your path.##imported-begin##Tawana Wills##imported-end##

“ To the family, please accept my condolences. It seems difficult to find comfort when we have losted a loved one. Please be comforted in Jesus words at John 11:38-44, where he demonstrated the hope of the resurrection with his friend Lazarus. God also promises at Rev. 21:4 to wipe out every tear ... and that death will be no more. With these conditions gone we can look forward to paradise. May these scriptures strengthen and bring you consolation.##imported-begin##Mrs. Howard##imported-end##
