

David S. Pressley

October 14, 1929 - December 22, 2002

David Pressley, son of the late Bertha Servance and Henry Ragins, was born on October 14, 1929 in Manning, South Carolina. He departed this life on December 22, 2002 after a short illness. He grew up and was educated in Manning, South Carolina. At the age of 24 he moved to Baltimore. The Clifton Conduit Company employed him for 19 years and later by the Mississippi Grain Elevator for fourteen years when he retired. After retiring, David enjoyed daily walks, chats with friends, and cooking for his family. He also enjoyed watching wrestling, and local sports teams. He married the former Alease James, and together they raised nine children, four daughters and five sons. David made numerous friends wherever he went and will be greatly missed by everyone who knew him. He was a good friend and devoted and protective family man. He leaves to mourn: his wife, Alease Pressley; five sons, Orion, Edward, Michael, Ronnie and David Jr.; four daughters, Allidease, Brenda, Jean and Valerie; three daughters by a former union, Mary, Betty and Jeannette; twenty-five grandchildren; two sons-in-law, Robert Rich, Sr. and Alvin Rawlings; one daughter-in-law, Deloris James; sixteen great-grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends.
