

Deborah Wheatley

March 29, 1952 - July 10, 2015

DEBORAH WHEATLEY, also known to everybody a “Debbie”, began her life on March 29, 1952 in Baltimore, Maryland to the late Lillie Hale and Leroy Molock.

Debbie was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System and attended Dunbar High School where she received her high school diploma. She worked for the State of Maryland (DLLR) Unemployment Insurance Claims Division for thirty year, until she retired.

In her spare time, Debbie loved to read books, go shopping, go to the casinos, but most importantly spend time with her family and especially her grandkids. She was blessed with a special gift – she crocheted blankets for a hobby. She had a personality that made you laugh and want to have a good time. She was a caring and giving person who loved to spoil her grandchildren.

After a lengthy battle with diabetes, she peacefully departed this earthly life on July 10, 2015 at Lorien Mays Chapel.

Debbie leaves to cherish her treasured memory with her devoted sons. David and Dana Awkward; two daughters-in-law, Tiffany Awkward and Monyette Awkward; seven brothers, Jeff Hale, Gerald Hale Jr., Shawn Hale, Leroy Molock Jr., Richard Molock Jr., Sylvester Molock, Derrick Molock,; two sisters, Angela Hale and Diane Molock; three sisters-in-law, Linda Molock, Tracy Molock and Brenda Molock; three grandchildren, Diara Awkward, Darian Awkward and Alexis Stockton, godson, Keith Harper; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.

In addition to her parents, she is now enjoying the pleasures of heaven with her beloved grandmother, Sophronia Wheatley; her siblings, Timothy and Perry Hale; sister-in-law, Michele Hale, and a special aunt, Helen Crandall-Stevenson.
