“ Each day it seems more of a reality that you are no longer with us. The phone calls have stopped. Your laughter we hear no more and your hope for better days are gone. When I think of the times that I looked for that certain call. I knew it was you. If there were family history that I was not sure of I could call and ask you. What about those holidays? We would both be excited to know that any day the special day would be upon us. Have you put your turkey on? Did you put up the tree? I know the children are so excited. I'm still waiting for my sweet potato pie. Oh, how I miss you. I miss you so. Through the good times and the hard places. We seem to make it through. God kept us. He kept us. The many times you would call me perplexed and concerned. I would take it to JESUS and let you know it would be alright. Just like it was the day JESUS came to take you to your eternal home. I said to you, "It's gonna be alright and just that suddently you were gone. I only know that I love you so. Oh, how I miss you. Mother, I miss you so very, very, much.##imported-begin##Rosalind##imported-end##
