“ My condolences on the loss of Mr. Conway. May this scripture be of comfort to you in your time of sorrow. Revelation 21:4, "And He will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have past away."##imported-begin##Debbie Spann##imported-end##

“ Dear Famiy,Please accept my condolences for the loss of your loved one. Death hurts us so much because it really is our enemy as First Corinthians 15:26 tells us. That same verse tells us that God will do away with death one day. Our loved ones will be restored to us with no more death, sickness, sorrow or pain. Yes Acts 24:15 declares- "there is going to be a resurrection". May you receive much comfort and strength from these loving promises of the Bible.##imported-begin##Sharon Hill##imported-end##

“ I am so very sorry that you lost your loved one in death. Try to remember that Jehovah cares deeply about your grief, and he purposes to end the scourge of sickness and death. 1st Corinthians 15:26 promises, "As the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing." Once this enemy of our happiness is removed, then our loved ones will be ressurected to live in a peaceful new world. 2nd Peter 3:13 says, "But there are new heavens and a new earth that we are awaiting, and in these righteousness is to dwell." Peace be with your family.###imported-begin###R Johnson###imported-end###

“ Hello! Conway's ! Sending condolences to you all in your family circle of life broken on June ,2006. Death is so unnatural for us because we were created to live forever. Just think, Mr. Derome live for 62 years and our enemy, the causer of death came along, but will soon be brought to nothing as the bible say at 1 Cor.15:26, great news to hear. Imagine the happiness that will result when dead loved ones are resurrected in the near future, John 5:28. I am looking forward to coming in the days ahead.###imported-begin###lilian Crosby###imported-end###
