

Doris Ceo

December 8, 1933 - July 24, 2019

SIS. DORIS CEO was born on December 8, 1933 to the late Sarah and Andrew Thurman from Anniston, AL. Doris departed this late of July 24, 2019 at Ft. Washington Medical Center in Fort Washington, MD.

Doris received her early education at Cobb High School in Anniston, AL. She also attended Alabama State College.

Doris met her husband, Albert Ceo, in Cherry Hill, MD on her way to the bank. After a brief period of dating, their lifelong marriage began in 1952. The couple built their dream home brick by brick, with their own hands.

Doris first worked at Gordon Box Factory in Baltimore as a line supervisor for several years. Later, she worked for Baltimore City in the Finance Department as a Key punch/Data Entry Operator for 30 years before retiring.

Sis. Doris was baptized in Alabama in 1940. She commenced her relationship with the First Baptist Church of Cherry Hill in 1956 and served alongside her husband, Bro. Albert Ceo. She was a member of the Women's Ministry, Bible Study Class, a member of the Senior Citizens' Ministry, Senior Exercise Class and helped with the culinary staff. Sis. Ceo started the "Golden Girls" fellowship and always shared her hospitality with them on the infamous breezeway. Sis. Ceo was committed to the church and supported the church activities, both physically and financially.

Doris belonged to the Cedar Morris Hill Community Association, where she directed hospitality for the senior group and worked on many other committees.

Doris was family-oriented and loved entertaining her family and friends. She was a nurturer and would do anything for her family if they were in need. Doris was structured and well-organized, and she kept an immaculate home. She was fashionable and had a great sense of humor. She was also a no-nonsense person. She said what she meant, and she meant what she said. Some of her favorite quotes were "I don't have a DIME" and "Your time is up (time to go) ... now."

Aunt Doris, we will always remember your words of wisdom, counsel, and guidance. Your life was a reflection of your love for the Lord, your family, and the church. Thank you for all the stories about your childhood, marriage, and family. They were full of laughter and reminders that life can be good if you keep the Lord first and walk in love.

Doris leaves to cherish her memory: her step-son, Furman Ceo of Mullins, SC; three sisters-in-law, Thelma Wharton of Baltimore, MD, Elsie Wilson of Mullins, SC, and Jenell Thurman of Eastern Shore, MD; three nephews, Felix T. Threat III (Veronica M. Threat) of Manchester, MD, Clyde Thurman of Eastern Shore, MD, and Andrea Thurman (Mozelle Thurman) of Eastern Shore, MD; two nieces, Vanessa A. Thomas of Eastern Shore, MD and Velencia Conyers of Eastern Shore, MD; her goddaughter, Yvonne Winslow of Glen Burnie, MD; close friend, Cassandra Goings of Baltimore, MD; special friend, Clara Boone of Baltimore, MD; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and other relatives and friends. Doris was preceded in death by her husband, Albert Ceo, and her six siblings.
