“ To The Family of the Reverend Dr. John T. Boyd, Jr.,

My thoughts and prayers are with you at this difficult time. Dr. Boyd was a significant touchstone and support for me as I answered the call to ministry. He mentored me and I know so many others with care, he modeled what being a minister/pastor is all about and his impact will never be forgotten. May the peace of God and the love of Christ surround and comfort you.

“ Dear Boyd Family,
I was deeply saddened to hear of Rev. Boyd's passing. His legacy of faith, love and encouragement will continue to shine brightly in the lives of all who were fortunate enough to know him. It brings me comfort to know that he is in Heaven, celebrating and rejoicing with my father, Milton "Mickey" Alexander, and many others who have gone before us.
During this difficult time, I pray that you find peace in the cherished memories you hold dear. Rev. Boyd touched the lives of so many and his presence will be greatly missed. May God's love surround you and bring you comfort in the days ahead.
With heartfelt condolences,
Sylvia A. Williams

I, too, am saddened by the loss of my great friend and wish to share a few words of the many conversations we shared. I consider him a brother, an eager listener, a down to earth soul, and a highly informed and interesting gentleman. We often discussed the human condition of all peoples, social welfare, government & politics, and "the great migration." He was extremely knowledgeable in all these topics and many more on a non-finite level. He was a great man! I am reminded of a poem I learned many years ago in high school by James Weldon Johnson, entitled "Go Down, Death." Should you read it, then substitute "Pastor John" in place of "Sister Caroline" and "he" in place of "she." The poet, diplomat, and civil rights activist ends the poem with the following verses:

" . . . Weep not-weep not, She is not dead; She's resting in the bosom of Jesus." There rests my friend. Condolences to all who knew and loved him. Descansa en paz, mi gran amigo.
