

Dwayne Harris

April 22, 1961 - October 13, 2022

Dwayne Alan Harris, 61, was born on April 22, 1961 in Richmond, Virginia to Mr. Herman Harris and Mrs. Peggy Harris. He was the only child to this union. He transitioned from labor to reward on Thursday, October 13, 2022 after fighting through an internal sickness.

Between 1989 and 1990 Dwayne was introduced to Rose Brown Harris through his best friend and brother-in-law Michael Brown.

After many years of courting each other and being long time life partners, Dwayne Alan Harris married the love of his life, the Late Rose Harris on January 9, 2000.

In his youth, Dwayne was a very talented and creative individual. He held many jobs, including working as a mechanic, welder, carpenter and computer guru.

Dwayne enlisted into the United States Marine Corps where he served his country from 1978 through 1984 as an Aircraft Mechanic. While in the Marine Corps, he received his professional education as an aviation mechanic, aircraft mechanic, and in corrosion control. He also received a rifle sharpshooter badge.

After many years working within his professional career Dwayne started to face health challenges that caused him to retire from Alpha Granite.

Dwayne enjoy using his hands while challenging his mind through building racing cars and Monster Jeeps/trucks.

Dwayne leaves to cherish his memories: two beloved sons Dwight A. Harris , Leonadas (Loni) Brown, and one daughter, Mellisha S. Brown; and one lovely granddaughter, MaKaelyn L. Jones.

He was preceded in death by his father, the Late Herman Harris; the late Mother Peggy Harris, His wife, Late Rose Harris and son The Late Dwayne Harris a host of nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles, cousins and other relatives and friends.

Dwayne Alan Harris

March on Good Soldier, you have fought a good fight, you have kept the faith, but God has saw fit for your life card to expire on this here place, we earth. Earth has no sorrow, until we meet again over in glory land.
