

Edith Carter

April 13, 1926 - January 5, 2024

On April 13, 1926, the late Spencer and the late Sarah Nash gave birth to their twelfth and last living child, EDITH MARIE NASH. On January 5, 2024, Edith went home to be with the Lord. As she frequently said, she is now “resting in the bosom of Abraham”.

Edith was born in Baltimore, Maryland and graduated from Dunbar High School. She was employed by G. C. Murphy, a chain of five and dime variety stores, where she hands printed signs for all of the local stores. She later worked as a Baltimore City Public School bus attendant for special needs children.

Edith married the late Basco Johns. From that union they had one son, Paul Lawrence Johns. After divorcing Mr. Johns, Edith had her second son, the late Otha Lloyd Nash. Later in her life, she married the late Solomon Carter.

Edith was a junior Nazarite and later became a member of the Oak Street AME Church. She was an avid student of the Bible. Until the end of her days, her lovely singing voice, as well as her memory of spirituals and hymns, remained strong and true. She showered love on her grandchildren, and she always took a particular interest in their education.

She leaves to mourn her passing: son, Paul Lawrence Johns (Anna); grandsons, Otha Malik Nash (Kendel Turner), Jonathan Paul Johns (Caryn Jackson) and Hamilton Jeremy Paul Johns; great-grandchildren, Anisa Turner Nash, Tajalli Turner Nash, Salim Jalil Nash and Abdulkarim Nash, Paul Wesley Johns, Camryn Leslie Johns and Calista Ashley Johns; nieces, Gwendolyn Chapman and Jeanette Galloway; and extended family friends.
