“ *Sorry to know we missed being with the family at the homegoing. Did not know Edna went home and now is with our Lord. A friend of our son, told us in a restaurant. I just went on the computer to find more information and learned it was in July. We did not receive a call. I see the homegoing was on my birthday. I spent the day trying to help a woman save her home here in Aberdeen. We are saddened to hear and not know. I would have been at the service if I had received a call. I know it was a time of grief. She lived her life for the Lord until the end. Please keep us aware of the family and we will keep all of you in our prayers. In His service, Love, family. “ To all of my cousins, when I heard the news of Cousin Edna's passing, I was deeply saddened. I will always have fond memories of her, how strong she was, how she was always willing to help me out, give me good advice, how she always knew the right things to say to comfort me. She was like a second mother to me. I know that she was not only her cousin, but also my mothers best friend. I regret being unable to attend her homecoming services but my thoughts were with the entire family. I pray that your grieving is brief and your loving memories go on forevr. I miss you Cousin Edna.
