

Edward Alfred Nicholson

September 9, 1938 - June 15, 2002

“ Come to me all you who labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest”
Edward Alfred Nicholson, son of the late Elsie Mae Richards and Roy Wilson, was born on September 9, 1938. He was the middle child of three children. His sister, Beverly Richard and his brother, Leroy Nicholson preceded him in death. Edward surrendered from his tour of duty on life’s battlefields to claim his place in the peaceful gardenfields of heaven. He was educated in the Baltimore City Public Schools. Having been gainfully employed throughout his life. Baltimore City Department of Sanitation for thirty-plus years of his life employed him until his health began to fail. He retired from the City in 2001. Edward was well liked by those who knew him. He spent most of his weekends with his very close buddy watching old Western movies. Edward’s memory will be forever cherished by his devoted nieces, Leitta and Stephanie; great-niece, Terraine Smith; great great-niece, Akilha Smith; devoted sister-in-law, Margaret Williams; aunt, Ruth Robinson; a host of cousins, other relatives and friends.
