

Edward Hunter

April 9, 1938 - May 22, 2002

Edward Hunter was born in Timmonsville, South Carolina on April 9, 1938. He was the third oldest son born to the late Compton Hunter and Carrie Dixon. Family and friends affectionately knew Edward as “Mann” and by his granddaughters, “Poppie” was their chosen term of endearment. Edward was a believer in the Word of God. He accepted Jesus Christ and understood the Power of the Holy Spirit! “Mann” received his early education in the public school system in Timmonsville, continued on to higher education at Morgan State University, and then received several advance certifications in business Management. Edward was an entrepreneur in several businesses and his wisdom in his field of study allowed him to not only create a wealth of return, but more importantly, maintained an excellent rapport with all whom he touched. Edward married the devoted Margaret “Barksdale” Hunter and from their union, four daughters were born Gail Marie, Anna C. Hunter-Miller, Donna Doreen and Deneen Dorothea. “Mann” was a member of many organizations. He became a member of the Masonic Fraternal Order in Baltimore, MD. The Afro-American Newspaper employed Edward as an Advertisement Account Executive until his illness. He departed this life on Wednesday, the 22nd day of May at Sinai Hospital. Edward leaves behind a devoted wife and friend Margaret A. Hunter: four daughters, Gail Marie, Anna C. Hunter-Miller, Donna Doreen, and Deneen Dorothea, four granddaughters; Taivonnia Jennings, Adrian T. Hayes, Ciara L. Miller, and Idea S. Kerr, one grandson; Lloyd Grant, two sisters; Louise Davis, and Alberta McCleod; three
